"Endless Sadness"

Nightshade and yellow sand
Voices echo inside
My soul escapes without me

The evening sun, I'm standing here alone
My shadow falls beyond the seven stones
Craving you

I blame myself for the hurting I have put you through
This unforgiven love is hurting me too
I need to know

Does your heart ache with endless sadness
Your sadness

I hear the sound, of waves on the shore
I feel the rain and the wild winds roar
I need to know

Does your heart ache with endless sadness
Your sadness
