Dom Yann Derrien please do not be afraid
This is no demon's dream you have made
I am the ghost of your dear mother's soul
This night to Compostella you must go

Long and far is the path of the pilgrims of old
Paved with pebbles of silver and stones of gold
From Galicia you may deliver my soul
To the city of Compostella you must go

And as the pilgrim's way you retrace
A beast of darkness you will face
He will entice you your journey to forsake
Or he will cast you in the ocean's wake

O Santiago will you be my guide
And will your spirit travel by my side
This prayer was heard throughout Galicia
Then he appeared at Compostella

And he delivered three souls
His father's soul, his mother's soul and his own soul
