[Trent Reznor]

Keep me in the sky, that's all that I cry
I'll become your servant if it's worth your time
Keep me in the sky, that's all that I'll say
I'll become your soldier, at least for this day
Keep me in the sky, that's all that I cry
I'll become your servant if it's worth your time
Keep me in the sky, that's all that I'll say

[El-P]

I know I haven't been walking a humble path
I know I cursed at your name and then laughed
And though I found it inane to bend calf
The servitude of groveling framed as pained task
I gotta figure, it can't hurt to ask
Suspension of disbelief in uniquely freak flash
Admission of the faithfully shaken, now trapped
30 thousand and dropping it's on and popping at last

[Trent Reznor]

Keep me in the sky, that's all that I cry
I'll become your servant if it's worth your time
Keep me in the sky, that's all that I'll say
I'll become your soldier, at least for this day

No!

There are no atheists in the foxholes

No!

There is no intellect in the air

No!

There are no scientists on the way down

Just a working example of faith versus physics {2X}

Flyentology (oh god)
Everybody get your ticket today
Flyentology (oh goD)
Welcome aboard, sir, right this way
Flyentology, flyen-flyentology (oh god)
Our bible is in your seat back pocket
Flyentology (oh god)

Tuck your head between your legs, now pray

I adore you

The same way that others always adored you

Emergency, humility

Just break glass

I implore

With no knowledge of dogma to conform to

I know I don't deserve it, but save my ass

And if I'm going down, let me do it in first class

The paganistic prayer of a heathen with wild past

Please forgive my bastardized style dash

And anoint me with salvation in form of non-crash

I wanna live so bad

All my life, I've been so arrogant

This is the vessel of my 'wakening

Please father, put your hand out

Carry it

I wanna live so bad

All my life, I've been so arrogant

This is the vessel of my 'wakening

God damn it, put your hand out

Carry it

[Trent Reznor]
