I saw a Picture that didn't look like you
The eyes were blackened and souless too
Lets start again and show our insides this time
For everyone has a hidden side

This Masks
My Face
For Us
For Them

Its not made of concrete but this sure is strong
Who is this im staring at?
The person I knew is gone
It's time to leave to become who we intended
Make a mark and not a scar this time

The Guy was burnt alive
Distracted by the flames of a Mask thats thrown away
Our new life begins today
We'll show the world
Take down what we created
Just be ourselves
March on so un-offended
