Ditch, The
"Crash"

Wait before the good times fade away
Before it all turns into gray
I know
We're turning al the lights down low

Leave
before our love turns into hate Before we feel like it's to late and hey
We'll go our separate ways
To-day

Where will you go running when the world comes crashing Where will you go hiding
when the world comes crashing down
on you Nothing's going right
for you

Stop before the dark is in control
Before we both have grown to old
To see cause we where never meant to be

Where will you go running when the world comes crashing
Where will you go hiding
on you
for you

Love has gone
It has taken everything I carry on I don't know If I can

Where will you go hiding
on you
for you

Where will I go running when the world comes crashing Where will I go hiding
when the world comes crashing down
on me
for me
