Stars in his eyes
His distance his disguise
He feels numb
She's travelled 'round the world
But found no place to run
And hide away
Always look for more
Can't seem to find out what is pure
And what is not
This silent quest I'm on
Has only just begun
Will I find the missing part
In this world

For all I care, for all I know
For every yes, for every no
I should be grateful but I'm not
Keep thinking is this all I've got
In this world

Violence is a killer
It can ruin your whole life
And make you wanna die
Forever seems to long
But today seems just right
To turn your life around
In this world

For all I care, for all I know
For every yes, for every no
I should be grateful but I'm not
Keep thinking is this all I've got
For every kiss, for every blow
For every fast, for every slow
I should be grateful but I'm not
Keep thinking is this all I've got
In this world
