Johnny can you hear me
Turn that music down
Your making too much noise
I mean it, do it now
All that stuff is evil
Ozzy, Judas Priest
Theres backwards messages in that stuff
That lead you to the beast

Johnny can you hear me
Open up that door
I've been calling you for hours
I won't say it anymore
Just wait until your dad gets home
And sees what you have done
Kicked out of school, you've got no job
You useless deliquent scum

Oh my god it Johnny
Hanging by his neck
All those metal albums
Have led him to his death

Now its time for parents
To open your ears and listen
Maybe it's to late
To see what you've been missing
Music is no cause of death
It's you that suffocates
If you had opened your eyes and ears
You'd see just who to blame

Who should be responsible for a life that's not on track
Who's the one who must be there to see it gets put
Were you there to here the cries of person in need
Were you there to see the signs
Or were you to busy

Now it's time for parents
To open you ears and listen

Maybe it's too late
To see what you've been missing
Music is no cause of death
It's you that suffocates
If you had opened your eyes and ears
You'd see just who to blame

Who should be responsible for a life that's not on track
Where are you to hear the cries of person in need
Were you there to see the signs
Or were you too busy

Who's the cause
Who's to blame
For a life not worth living
Is it parents, family who take without giving
So next time that you close you eyes
And choose to shift the blame
Remember you could save a life
So, really who's to blame...
