Open up your eyes
Raise your voices
Don't you realise
You're the chorus?

And it won't be long
Keep holding on
We'll fan these flames until they light
A beacon home
To lead us on this open road

You're building me up
You break me out
You're always right here waiting
Right here waiting to start
You burn so bright
You are the light that guides me home

Sometimes we get so tired
Still we're trying
Standing side by side
We're not alone
We'll keep fighting

Cause it won't be long
Keep holding on
We'll fan these flames until they light
A beacon home
To lead us on this open road

You're building me up
You break me out
You're always right here waiting
You burn so bright
You are the light that guides me home

It's happening now
We've taken so long
To figure this out
Cause somehow
We're moving each other on

You're building me up
You break me out
You burn so bright
You are the light that guides me home

You burn so bright, you burn so bright
