baby i still can't believe the way that i went off
On what you said the other night Guess it must have been then way you said it Cause somehow it really tore me up inside.
And i wish i would have made you stay, to try to make everything ok
Cause you know it's never been like me to lash out at you and say words that Would hurt you
And then let you walk away
But now there's so much in my heart that i never got to share
And i know right now you must be thinking i don't even care
But now i'm here to let you know, not afraid to let it show
How much i really love you and i can't live without you in my life.

I just want one more try
Don't let this be goodbye
Please forgive me for the things i said
Baby can we just start over again.

Baby if you only knew that i would give Anything right now to go back to that night.
I would have found a better way to tell you what was killing me
And things would be alright
But now i feel that it's too late.
Did i let you slip away without letting you know how much i care.
Well all you have to do to see What you really mean to me is count all of these tears.
Cause tonight i feel so all alone without you by my side.
Baby wont you come walk back into my life

I just want one more try
Don't let this be goodbye
Please forgive me for the things i said
Baby can we just start over again

Ever since that first day i saw you I felt you take my heart and everything, I'm ready now to show you, i've been feeling from the start
To have you in my arms again there's nothing i wont do I'm on my knees so baby please.
This is all i ask of you

I just want one more try
Don't let this be goodbye
Please forgive me for the things i said
Baby can we just start over again

Start over again, i just want one more try
