So afraid in the land of faith when it comes to love never there to face the truth when the going gets tough we disagree on everything that we see but girl we both know that's a lie... yeah, yeah

When the road is too long and the pain gets too strong leave a light by your door when a love gone astray keeps coming your way it is worth fighting for follow your destiny baby, leave a light by your door

Crazy bets and sad regrets are your closest friends but can you keep your heart afloat when the river bends you can't hide too long, there's an ending to this song girl you just got to believe it, yeah yeah

follow your destiny baby, you gotta believe in me girl, leave a light by your door

You better hold on, better hold on, better hold on to what you believe,... Keep the dream alive...

Love was blown to smithereens it wasn't quite a pretty scene but when you turned your back on me I knew that you would get to me 'cos time reveals the scheme life we've got to keep this dream alive now darlin' take a chance on me... yeah, yeah, yeah
When the road is too long and the pain gets too strong
follow your destiny baby,
You better hold on, better hold on, you better hold on to what you believe
