Why don't you come and feed me
Feed me all my memories
And I'll wash it down with all of your goodness
Your goodness

I guess I won
But I just can't seem to change
You lied to me, you lied to me
You don't even know my name
There is good in me and it's proud to love you

I chose to be a dreamer
But your reality seems sweeter
To taste it would turn my whole life
Around and around

I guess I won
But I just can't seem to change
You lied to me, you lied to me
You don't even know my name
There is good in me and it's proud to love

I am containing what is real
For something I can not conceal
I am containing what is real
For something I can not conceal

I guess I won
I guess I won
I guess I won
I guess I won

But I just can't seem to change
You lied to me, you lied to me
You don't even know my name
There is good in me and it's proud to love you true
But I just can't seem to change
You lied to me, you lied to me
You don't even know my name
There is good in me and it's proud to love you true
