I'm lost in the love maze, but you can get me out
I know girls want a man who act out loud
But you won't let yourself be impressed
When I ask you to touch my hairy

La la la la la la la la

Oh shame and lonely tears cover up my face Cold shivers and headache, what's left today?
I'll blame the alcohol, I'm not that dumb What seemed a good move makes less and less and less sense

All I wanted was you to think I was a badboy
But all I got was that you thought I was a bad person

It would flatter you to know how hard I worked to be someone for you
You can never imagine how hard it was for me to not say I was in love
But I know you couldn't see that I tried to make you love me

All I wanted was you to think I was a badboy
But all I got was that you thought I was a bad person
All I wanted was you to think I was a badboy
But all I got was that you thought I was a bad person

La la la la la la la la
