Hold on to your dream
No one in between
Tell me where is the point of no return
Hold on to your dream
Light is what you've seen
Tell me where is the point of no return

Accept your destiny
Now and eternally
You'll find the right time to decide
You'll turn reality
In perfect harmony
And you will always be my guide

Inside yourself
You don't know what's right or what's wrong
Your feelings are so weak and so strong
Your vanity and your disguise
Is that all you want to live for

No, now you will escape from waiting
Aiming for a better place
Can you feel (what)
The higher pace
Mission is incomplete
Take the advice not the defeat
One hundred ways to discover the reason
Right or wrong
Am i out of season
Don't you think that way
It's your day
Don't fade to gray

Express yourself
Don't be afraid of your dreams
You can aim for more than it seems
You're victim of what you believe
Is that all you wanna live for
