When he said
"I hope you're sleeping better knowing that I never sleep at all" did you reply
With that smile
I know this can't
Be what you had in mind
I guess you'll try it all again next fall
You'll feel better on the day that he dies

So when you're pulling on your trendy clothes
And humming every stupid note to this song
That's on your mixtape that we're singing oh so loud
Yeah we're singin' now

Na na na na nana na (repeats)

When she said
"you gotta make your plans, to start making plans alone" maybe we will and maybe we won't
And you know you're gonna paint the town red
With all your blood she stole
On the night of the murder when she left you alone

So when she's pulling on her trendy clothes
And humming every stupid note to this song that's on her mixtape that we're singing
Oh so loud yeah we're singin' now

Na na na na na na na (repeats)

And here's to all the boys you'll kiss
And all the scars left on their lips
And here's to all the boys you'll date
The one's we'll make sure that we hate

And here's to all the boys you'll kiss
And all the scars left on their lips
And here's to all the boys you'll date
The one's we'll make sure that we hate
