If you want to sleep I'll pull the shade
If you should vanish I'm sure to fade
If you should smolder I'll breathe in your smoke
If you should giggle
I'll smile and pretend that I made the joke
And if you should ever leave me I will crumble
That's just the way I am
I hope you never leave me
That is to say
If you should sink I don't want to swim
If you lock the door I'll beg to come in
If you should sing I won't make a sound
If you should fly I'll curse the ground
And if you should ever leave me I will crumble
That's just the way I am
I hope you never leave me
That is to say
I will crumble
If you're an explosion I won't search for shelter
If you're the sun I'll sit here and swelter
If you're the moon I'll stay up all night
If you're a ghost I'll be haunted for life
And if you should ever leave me I will crumble
That's just the way I am
I hope you never leave me
That is to say
I will crumble
