I'm not waiting, I'm not waiting.
I have pictures in my troubled past, and their shaped
like broken glass.
I have memories I kept of you, I return them with goodbyes.
'Cause I'm not waiting for you anymore, I don't care
what might have been.
I'm not waiting for you anymore, I give up my love can't win.
But in my heart, my heart, I know that though I go I'll
love you still.
But in my heart, my heart, I know that though I go I
always will.
I'm not waiting, I'm not waiting.
( Guitar Solo )
I still think about what used to be, I have dreams that might have been.
Someone else will walk beside you soon, now I know my love can't win.
So I'm not waiting for you anymore, I don't care what
might have been.
I'm not waiting for you anymore, I give up so why
pretend?
But in my heart, my heart, I know that though I go I'll
love you still.
But in my heart, my heart, I know that though I go I
always will.
I'm not waiting, I'm not waiting.
