Feat Zodiac Killah

[Chorus: Hell Razah]

I stalk in the land where the world's gonna end

Life is a game that the blacks never win

You can't look back, when the devils on attack

Or be the next victim inside this deathtrap

[Hell Razah]

When I stalk, I take a deep breath of death

In the atmosphere, then I prepare to meet my enemy

I leave ya lost inside a mental maze

Like bad memory plus a overdose of amnesia

Equals brain seizures

With no warning, too prejudice

Critics who don't pee wee judgin us had gimmicks

Why die think they rappers

Cuz they study the dictionaries

Is life is a cycle from ya birthday to the cemeteries?

My third eye, describe the fantasy world alive

I eat food for thought, on Thanksgiving

Instead of celebrating, the killin of the Indians

My brain potential turn me into a mental maniac

You think ya zaniac, when I'm outsane

Creating more mysterious, curious shit than a Dr.

Strange

Had a full capacity fillin ya open dome like a cavity

Too many tragedies, caused by demons that lack on strategy

My intellectual concepts is logic, ya dissect, blood spill, white spill

Study it for my test, a life of death escapes

Burn like the equator to eliminate ya face

The doors of hell is closin by minute we deathtrapped in it

I'm searchin for the beginning, but the end, they let me win it

I'm alergic to murder futures, in the price time the evidence is mine

Think beyond, right now, I can hear souls of the innocent

Crying in pain, every year, only we had no real ears
To hear the fear

The ritual wounds, I glide, cuz the dark days will raid skies

And it will rain pain on the insane devils in the sky
When under pressure, ya can't stand still on ya own flat!
