You're sixteen, you're late at school
You don't like working, I understand, it's cool
You have a band but you haven't found a name
You're not the same that's what your parents say

What about your life, before to be a rockstar
What about your life, before to be a rockstar
You say: no way I won't go to school
Today what about the rules
No more teachers, no more work
I'm leaving with my band around the world
No way I won't go to school
Today what about the rules

You told your friends you wanted to leave
They said "it's crazy", what are you doing?
But they don't know, they really don't know
What's happening on stage when your doing the show

What about your life, before to be a rockstar
What about your life, before to be a rockstar
You say: no way I won't go to school
Today what about the rules
No more teachers, no more work
I'm leaving with my band around the world
No way I won't go to school
Today what about the rules
No more teachers, no more work
I'm leaving with my band around the world

No way I won't go to school
Today what about the rules
No more teachers, no more work
I'm leaving with my band around the world

No way I won't go to school
Today what about the rules
No more teachers, no more work
I'm leaving with my band around the world
