Oh, I really care for you...

If words could do the things that I want to do with you
I would be so happy
And if the smile I smile with you could make you love me true
I would be so happy

My lonely days alone with no one to call my own
I only think of you, then I go on feeling blue

If you could hear my cry, then maybe you would try
To love me forever
The days that pass by just bring teardrops from my eyes
I really love you

My lonely days alone with no one to call my own
I only think of you, then I go on feeling blue

I really, really love you...

My lonely days alone with no one to call my own
I only think of you, then I go on feeling blue

If you could hear my cry, then maybe you would try
To love me forever

I really, really love...
