Cloud upon cloud cries poison rain
Slate, hair, roads glisten again
There's no console, it's no game
We were going places, it's such a shame

Bleed forever, seep from the stones
Bleed forever, silence our tones
Bleed forever, mold us like clay
For everything we have is taken away

The gunning gunrunner wakes from his sleep
With no remorse for those who kick by his feet
Skin care consultant calls the police
But from this dungeon there is no release

Bleed forever, seep from the stones
Bleed forever, silence our tones
Bleed forever, mold us like clay
For everything we had has wasted away

Fate decided, rubbing your eyes
Men in tailcoats absorb the cries
Milk the scapegoat and milk it dry
Put it down and watch it die

Bleed forever, seep from the stones
Bleed forever, bleed to the bones
Bleed forever, burn us away
For everything we had has wasted away
Everything we knew has wasted away
