She came in smelling of cabbages
Pumpkin roots and all winter's ravages
She came in around dawn, took her coat off
Burdened down by the Russian winter
Felt the warmth of the hearth

Bathed a while, naked in hot water
Wash away imminent disaster
Thinking through her today
And the murder of the bailiff and landowner
Felt no shame, only gain

Cleansed the pike, peeled all the potatoes
Beetroots ripe for bellies of gigolos
Served it up for her son and her daughter
For the last time she imagines
Reprobates lie in wait

Baby bye-bye
Bye-bye, bye-bye
Bye-bye baby
Sky baby
Bye-bye baby

Sweet vigilante
Bye-bye baby
Sky baby
Bye-bye baby

Sweet vigilante
Baby bye-bye
