When you fall asleep
Before the end of the day
You start to worry

Like when the taxi comes
To take you away
When you're in no hurry

Yet as our hair turns white
All the stars still shine so bright, above
At least it's not the end of the world

We could live it large
Because we're only old once
Let's make a difference

Turn all the hate in the world
Into a mocking bird
Make it fly away

Yet as our hair turns gray
Everything is far from A-Okay
At least it's not the end of the world
No, no

At least it's not the end of the world
