Pushing so hard it seems my body's finally breaking down
I am suppose to be half hearted cause you're still around
Please tell the something's giving, that something's lurking just around the bend
This place is making me crazy, won't someone save me
now I'm off the end

So hold on to what we know, one last chance to make it Just hold on to what we know, one last chance to be alright

Trying so hard to sing my pride is all but shutting down On to each word I cling, please help me out before I drown
Please tell the something's giving, that something's
lurking just around the bend
This place is making me crazy, won't someone save me
now I'm off the end

Just hold on to what we know, one last chance to be
alright

Hold on to what we know, one last chance to be alright
Please tell the something's giving, that something's
lurking just around the bend
This place is making me crazy, won't someone save me
now I'm off the end

Just hold on to what we know, one last chance to be
alright
One more for the road, one last chance to make it Hold on, don't let go, one last chance to be alright.
