"Goodnight"

I figured by know that I let you down, I wonder if you still hear the sounds Of relationships lost & apologies rendered another letter returned to sender Like it or not you still got your way a victim of circumstances or the fray Your times elapsed your minutes passed no one could stop the full collapse

Goodnight! Where are you now?

Remember the nights out on the road, you felt so proud you felt so bold Without much you still made your way, you against the world we all used to say Faint of heart but not faint of mind why is it that happiness is hard to find I should've kept you inside of the lines, I should've stuck around but never had the time

Goodnight.
