How to write the perfect rock song, gotta make em'
play it over again
Each word just a piece of the hustle, don't say it's over before we begin

If this all stops could I survive, don't seem so sure that its do or die
The mainstream is so out of touch you're just a little much Tell me, tell me which line to use, or would you even listen
Trying so hard to spread the news that we're selling out

How to write the perfect rock song, gotta make em'
play it over again
Each word just a piece of the hustle, don't say it's over
before we begin

Lining our ducks all in a row, the next big thing but you wouldn't know
A&R still hates the band and we're in such demand Tell me, tell me which line to sing, or would you even
Radio doesn't mean a thing because we're well endowed

How to write the perfect rock song, gotta make em'
play it over again
Each word just a piece of the hustle, don't say it's over
before we begin
Make way for the greatest rock song

Scribble a few more lines
What more can we do just to see the signs
A diamond in the rough Now we've sold our souls
but its not enough

How to write the perfect rock song, gotta make em'
play it over again
before we begin

Make way for the greatest rock song!
