Painkillers will be a most effective energy
We're taking another hand all this time
With pockets so full of strain, a search for someone else the same
A long and arduous task of mine
Cause these dreams have more to say
And I'm watching as we go

Everybody wants to play on casualties we gave away
It's thickening in the sand as we go

Cause these dreams have more to say
And I'm watching as we go

Come step inside these walls I've found
This altitude's declining
It's shaping up and shaping down and now it's over...

Jealousy burns a light in someone else's arms tonight
Jealousy burns a light this far...
