I knew you once
You never knew me then Afraid to ever say, I wanted to be friends
And now the years have passed, youre far away
And suddenly I feel Im not the same

The walls are breaking down
I think Im crackin up I look around Now everythings too much

And the world is spinnin much too fast
Well I can hardly catch my breath and I just hope that this will last
The world is slippin from my grasp Im looking round to find, the girl
I left behind You were the best I never had

Remember when I saw you in the hall
You passed right by my stare, not noticing at all And if Id had the guts, Id catch your glance
But I am just the boy without a chance

The walls are breaking down
I think Im crackin up
I look around Now everythings too much

And the world is spinnin much too fast Well I can hardly catch my breath and I just hope that this will last The world is slippin from my grasp Im looking round to find, the girl I left behind You were the best I never had
