There's no one like you, even if I look around it's just like that Where else to look for? A person good like you, a person good like you, a Heart good like you, a gift good like you How lucky, the person who will try hard to protect you is just me
Where else to look for? A guy happy like me, a guy happy like me, a guy who Laughs with the greatest happiness like me

Your two warm hands get cold when I'm cold, your heart which used to be Strong gets sensitive when I'm hurt To silently take my hands, to silently hold me, I only wish for those small Comforts
You don't know this heart of mine, which always wants to do more for you

My heart, say it out loud, my free soul
The days left are even more than the time when I came love you with a heart
Which always felt like the first time

*There's no one like you, even if I look around it's just
like that
Where else to look for? A person good like you, a person good like you, a Heart good like you, a gift good like you How lucky, the person who will try hard to protect you is
just me
Where else to look for? A guy happy like me, a guy
happy like me, a guy who
Laughs with the greatest happiness like me

When my greedy heart gradually looks to other directions, when my greeds Grow more than my mind can handle To understand, to tell me clearly after all those excuses "I'm here", only

That one thing

I'm always thankful. Will I ever act that well just like you

My heart, say it out loud, my free soul
The days left are even more than the time when I came
love you with a heart
Which always felt like the first time

like that
Where else to look for? A person good like you, a
Heart good like you, a gift good like you How lucky, the person who will try hard to protect you is
just me
Where else to look for? A guy happy like me, a guy
happy like me, a guy who
Laughs with the greatest happiness like me

Rap> You know what, little much little even though I'm shy, you don't know It but you're burning like the sun, please understand my heart
Even though those girls appearing on TV shows are sparkling, I always look At you (I'm crazy crazy Baby) Hearing you tell me "I love you", I have everything in this world You & I, You're so fine, Is there even anyone like you?
I love you Oh, please know it, that to me there's only you, that I Foolishly see you as my everything

We came on the same road, we are just like each other, how surprising, how Thankful, it's just love

*There's no one like you, even if I look around it's just
like that
Where else to look for? A person good like you, a
Heart good like you, a gift good like you How lucky, the person who will try hard to protect you is
just me
Where else to look for? A guy happy like me, a guy
happy like me, a guy who
Laughs with the greatest happiness like me
There's no one like you
