"Not Alone"

Looks like you're going away
You've waited around too long to stay
You seem to know the score
Don't you know I knew it all
Before the day you came into my life
When he took away your dreams
And stole your mind

You're not alone
Not alone, Not alone

Your insecurity
Always gets the better of you
You're confused about what to do
You even start to realise
The question why you're even Here at all
You've had to learn to hear the pain
Since you were born

You're not alone
Not alone, Not alone, Not alone

I will wait for you from now on
You can look for me when you are Lost and find it hard to sleep at night
I will listen to your words and kiss your eyes

You're not alone
Not alone, Not alone, Not alone
