You thought that you found the girl that you could love
But then she brushed you off with an ice cold shrug
You poured out your heart
You gave her your love
But then she put you on
Like a worn out work glove
She drug you through the dirt
Not even caring that it hurt
Because she's got her own agenda
She's got to attend to
She'll chew you up
And spit you out
Then she'll use you and abuse you and twist you around
You're like a birdy in the haze and lala faze
She's got you running through that maze for days and days
She's a twisted little sista with tricks and schemes
But the sad thing is
She's still got you on your knees
Desperately you're beggin' please
Oh baby won't you try to love me
It went too quick too fast to last
She walked out that door with one big blast

Your world came crashing
Your world came crashing down
The day you meet that twisted sista
I don't think that she ever really loved you
Well I know a love that is never ending
I know a God that is always there

You thought that you found the girl that you could love
But then she brushed you off with an ice cold shrug
You poured out your heart
You gave her your love
But then she put you on
Like a worn out work glove
She drug you through the dirt
Not even caring that it hurt
Because she's got her own agenda

She's got to attend to
She'll chew you up
And spit you out
Then she'll use you and abuse you and twist you
You're like a birdy in the haze and lala faze
She's got you running through that maze for days and
She's a twisted little sista with tricks and schemes
But the sad thing is
She's still got you on your knees
Desperately you're beggin' please
Oh baby won't you try to love me
It went too quick too fast to last
She walked out that door with one big blast

Your world came crashing
Your world came crashing down
The day you meet that twisted sista
I don't think that she ever really loved you
Well I know a love that is never ending
I know a God that is always there

And you gotta get rid of that twisted sista
And start living for A God that won't leave you
A God that's always there
