I felt so introspective tonight
Thinkin ahead about my final hindsight
Did I make every moment count
How much did I sit about
Doin not the good I know to do

What will I say when Im faced with his glory the saints
And the angels as I tell my story
Will the works Ive accomplished be worthy of heaven
What will I think lookin back
What was gold what was dross
What was gain what was loss
What will stand what was fleeting
And what will I change while my hearts still beating

20/20
So many thoughts fill up my mind
Look inside the word and I can't find
The promise of another day
Or how much longer I will stay
No one really knows how long they have.
