I can feel the old earth shake tonight
Mother earth feels labor aches tonight
I can feel the old world passin'
I can hear the whole world crashing down tonight

And if I died here tonight, I know my soul is with you
I'm sure about the promises you've made

Surely then I will be judged tonight
Surely I'm a little scared tonight
Surely now the sheep and goats are split upon the Threshing floor tonight

Lord, you are my only good, I will hold to you
Should the fires of hell sear and singe me
Lord, you are my protector
I will hold to the fold of your robe
Should the devil himself come to claim me
