Politicians and tycoons its time for your brandy sucking down the poison like the devil's candy condemning all of our pleasures as you're drinking from your booze alcohol is not a drug, haven't you heard the news? that drunk driving Johnny killed a family of nine while pot smoking Frankie was driving just fine hypocrites separate the rich from the wine but you made my decision to cross that line you crossed that line, you crossed that line when you made my decisions you crossed that line we can work things out we can find a way this land was built on compromise, it's the american way just don't take my weed away pause now for station identification it's the sounds of the underground, you copy irie irie jah jah smoke em if you got em tell 'em Kristopher Bentley the father of our nation yeah he smoked a lot of chronic knew the economic value of good hydroponic we look up at the man as a hero ironic when clinton don't inhale call him unpatriotic let the bastards drink and not think with their mind hypocrites separate the rich from the wine when you make my decisions you cross that line
