I have crawled a million miles to reach you
But you won't hear a single word I say
Cause every thought got lost in the translation
And every word pushed you farther away

My whole world is disconnected
And I can't feel, I'm disconnected
Nothing's real, I'm disconnected
And you can never touch me now
I'm disconnected

But still I try to reach you through the darkness
But the emptiness is more than I can stand
I think it's time we cut these cords that bind us
I think it's time we let this story end

My whole world is disconnected
And I can't feel, I'm disconnected
Nothing's real, I'm disconnected
You can never touch me now
I'm disconnected
I'm disconnected

I think it's time we cut these cords that bind us
I think it's time we let this story end

My whole word is disconnected
And I can't feel, I'm disconnected
Nothing's real, I'm disconnected
And you can never touch me now
I'm disconnected
I'm disconnected
I'm disconnected
I'm disconnected
