Again they're teasing me
I'm fighting what I cannot see
I'm digging, still can't find the key
And logic just keeps failing me

Take another swallow, lean back and disappear
Take another swallow and release the fear
One to fill the hollow, one to make it clear
One to hide the mess and one to keep me

To keep me running
To keep me running
To keep me running
To keep me running

Oh doctor, my dismay
The dragon never goes away
Will your medicine keep him at bay
Will it get me through another day

Buried deep and tied up neat
Laid to rest, put down to sleep
All the mischief knocking at my door
I have tried in vain just to ignore

Take another swallow, lean back and disappear
Take another swallow and release the fear
One to fill the hollow, one to make it clear
One to hide the mess and one to keep me

To keep me running
To keep me running
To keep me running
To keep me running
To keep me running
Ain't got time for looking back
To keep me running
To keep me running
