

Supreme Beings of Leisure

"This World"

Visit "This World" on MotoLyrics.com

Lost in streams
Remembering your breath upon my face
The sweet song of your embrace
Another dawn
The fog of days roll on
As the embers fade the glow is gone

Rescue me from these everyday fires
Set me free, let me feel that desire

My darling, our love was not meant for this world
My darling, our love was not meant for this world

How did we get to where we are
Tied a string upon a star
We have everything but time love in this world

All our devotions blown away
By the madness of the day
We have lost something with time love in this world

Rescue me from our worldly desires
Promise me we can bring back the fire

My darling, our love was not meant for this world
My darling, our love was not meant for this world

My darling, our love was not meant for this world
Not meant for this world
Not meant for this world
Not meant for this world
Not meant for this world
Not meant for this world
Not meant for this world

Visit Supreme Beings of Leisure page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.