The way you walk away from me makes me look again in to see within but Im lost as I see the sway of your hips, I dont even count the cost (so save us all, from scarring hearts of ours forever.
The pieces fall, charades parade around together.
One look it cuts so deep, wont heal until forever.
To promise that this is the end, Ill never look away again) I look again everybody WOO...
I look again as I wet my lips staring at the fading image my mind
so caught up in the sight of what I saw for one second, my thoughts flickering like a thousand lights waiting, hoping, wanting and Im brought back to here in my mind still unclear, as I realize I stand next to you I cannot hide the confusion as the lies fall from my mouth and you look away with hurt in your eyes and I try (as you cry)
to promise that this is the end I will never look away again
Everybody CLAP!!!
I want to see you forever
Always with, I want to see you, For I never want to look away again...
I want to see you forever
