(M. Liffengren/K. Heinzman/P. Liffengren/J.Rye)
She's leaving, say's she's sorry for things she's done
He's grieving, believing that she's the only one
Harsh words, cut deep leave a bitter end
No hope of living, oh, when you've lost a friend
I'm looking for something
Searching for the words to say
To comfort the lonely, when their worlds gone astray
No, I can't explain why you feel this way
And I don't know what you've done to feel this pain
But I don't think that it's a matter of me or you
When circumstances come we gotta see it thru
All alone, living all by yourself
No one to turn to, when you're in need of help
Emptiness, fills you with despair
Can't go on living, oh, when no one seems to care
We all have our stories, no two are the same
I can't feel their hurt, I don't know their pain
If you're looking for answers, I'm not your man
Some decisions of God I don't understand
But there is one thing I know
When confusion surrounds you
There's a place you can go
