

Drive, The "Important"

Despite all the anger
I have encountered
I've finally pushed you down the stairs
From fighting the demons
That fill my mind up
I'm now strengthen and prepared

You're so jaded,
And my face so faded
You're so faded,
And my face so jaded

Through each encounter
I have discovered
The bullshit you threw my way
My dark eyes reflect
You're true mindset
The scheming and lying to face

You're so jaded,
And my face so faded
You're so faded,
And my face so jaded

You're convoluted bullshit talk
Is a sad excuse to make yourself feel important

You're so jaded,
And my face so faded
You're so faded,
And my face so jaded
