(Will stand as our own mark
It will stand)

They never wait for the time
To feel their souls get
Tainted in white
They never try to hide
Their strength and pride
(Wait)
Rise of the fallen

Tied up they're still waiting
Barely suffocating
But through the rise of the fallen
Dark voices in their heads
Start fainting and fading away
Close to get insane
But their dreams still remain
Through the rise of the fallen
Dark voices in their heads
Start fainting and fading away

They never look back to see
The chaos
Too many needs to satisfy
They choose rather die
(Wait)
Rise of the fallen

Tied up they're still waiting
Barely suffocating
But through the rise of the fallen
Dark voices in their heads
Start fainting and fading away
Close to get insane
But their dreams still remain
Through the rise of the fallen
Dark voices in their heads
Start fainting and fading away

They have lived in torture

They have sacrificed themselves
Trying to erase the fear of censure
But never giving themselves up

In this way
They didn't gave up from their goals
And they lived this vicious circle
Of vanished bodies and souls
Without leaving any trace behind

Hence take your lesson
You that live in the bottom of the well
Remember these people and get up
So that each person hear the yell
Like it sounds a blow-up

You're lost in a world that you have to repair
But think twice about what you are going to stare
So wash your mind and open your eyes
Believe that all bad things have a demise
(Have a demise)

The fallen
The fallen
The fallen
The fall
The fallen
The fallen
The fallen
The fall,

Now we take for granted
Our victory above the dark
And the light that we spread
Will stand as our own mark

It will stand,

With our knees on the floor
And our hands shaking much more
Regret is now a presence
Surrounds us in this war

Blame, hurt and lost
And all the prices you have paid
Along the path you will feel
Shame on everything you made

It will stand...
