right beside me & your wrecking the place throw me to the mat its a starry night in mid april & you know where the spaceships go last night i saw the brightest shooting star & we all take open water for granted now for granted now

it was your words that pushed me over the edge it was your trampoline that bounced me the wrong way it was your words that pushed me over the edge & sent me down

how do you have me chasing the ball? how how how

*whoa

you said it was my time to shine
