(Billy Graham)

Gentle woman mine, gentle woman mine
Your love's the lasting kind
Gentle woman mine, gentle woman mine
You belong to me, you're mine.

You lay your head beside me
And you gently take my hand
I feel your body close to mine
You understand your man.

Gentle woman mine, gentle woman mine
Your love's the lasting kind
Gentle woman mine, gentle woman mine
You belong to me, you're mine.

We pull the night around us
Like a blanket warm and black
The problems of the world are gone
And we don't want 'em back.

You breathe soft on my shoulder
And I hold you close, so tight
I wouldn't give the whole wide world
For what we have tonight

Gentle woman mine, gentle woman mine
Your love's the lasting kind
Gentle woman mine, gentle woman mine
You belong to me, you're mine.

Gentle woman mine, gentle woman mine
Your love's the lasting kind
Gentle woman mine, gentle woman mine
You belong to me, you're mine...
