(Melvin Endsley)

There's heartaches like you've never known
But there's heaven if you make a care
There's loving a plenty, your wants won't be many
I just came from there.

I lost her and started to roam
Kept searching for love everywhere
There's something about her, I can't live without her
I just came from there.

There's sweetness when she turns it on
But she has a talent so rare
Just thought I would warn you, if things do get stormy
I just came from there.

If it's her world that you're thinking of Then make certain that you're well aware
It's up to her chosin', it could be your ruin
I just came from there...
