(Bob Tubert - Margie Bowes)

I've seen the travel folders where to go and what to do But I've never found a place that won't remind me of you
So I keep right on moving from your mem'ry I take flight
I find hurt in every town as I run for my life.

In crowds I find I'm alone nowhere I want to be
When it seems I'll forget your mem'ry sneaks upon me
So I find I have to hurry off lose myself and denied Morning finds me out of breath as I run for my life.

I run for my life through a hungry heartbreak towns
I run for my life still the hurtin' won't slow down
If I could just lose myself when I know the race I'd win
But the only way to lose myself is an awful sin.

Your mem'ry's like my shadow it's always by my side
I'm just going around in circles as I run for my life.

I'm just going around in circles as I run for my life...
