(Carl Belew - Van Givens)

Honey, I think that it's just about time
That you and I had a long talk
'Cause lately it seems we just can't get along
So let's find out just who's at fault.

It seems to me ever since you've got a job
So we could live better in style
We've done nothing but our things now I've decided
I'll make the living if you'll make the living worthwhile.

I'll make the living if you'll make the living worthwhile.

Life's not worth living when I give an inch
And you end up takin' a mile
It's been so long since you gave me the reason
I'll bet I forgot how to smile.

So let's stop this fussing and do some forgiving
I'll make the living if you'll make the living worthwhile.

I'll make the living if you'll make the living worthwhile...
