(Roger Miller)

Meadow green, meadow green
You beat all I've ever seen
With your bubbleing brook near by
Trees that seem to touch the sky.

Meadow green, valley low
You thrill and inspire me so
There's a teardrop in my eye
I must say goodbye.

I must go across the sea
Would you tell the wind for me
And while your at it tell the rain
I'll be coming home again.

To meadow green, meadow green
Many miles may come between
But I hope the time will fly
Meadowgreen goodbye.

I must go across the sea
Would you tell my love for me
And while your at it tell the rain
I'll be coming back again.

To meadow green, meadow green
Many miles may come between
But I hope the time will fly
Meadowgreen goodbye...
