Saying hello, saying I love you, saying goodbye.

Oh, I've had my share of strangers that turned into lovers

Then turned back to strangers again

Oh, I lost then in a crowd of sad passer's by Saying hello, saying I love you, saying goodbye.

Yes it's a long way from nowhere to the place where we're standing

But baby, baby we've finally arrived

After traveling separate highways, taking all the dead-end rights

Saying hello, saying I love you, saying goodbye.

Oh baby, I hear you, I hear you and I really do believe it
I finally do believe it in my heart

Let's close all the doors behind us and route the night around us

Baby, now don't say a word.

Let's just make love to each other and leave the world outside

Saying hello, saying I love you, saying goodbye.

Let's just make love to each other and leave the world
outside

Saying hello, saying I love you, saying goodbye.

Saying hello, saying I love you, saying goodbye.

Saying hello, saying I love you, saying goodbye...
