(Billy Mize)

I had a home and family in Missouri
Had a job any man would be proud of
But I lost it all and here I am in Georgia
Crawlin' out to a wicked woman's love.

She lured me from all the things I treasured
To dingy bars with forbid rooms above
My mind may not close out the shame I've caused
Crawlin' out to a wicked woman's love.

The devil surely got me now, hasn't he
I've lost control of every bone inside of me
I think I should go home but I'm not strong enough
And I've gotta have this wicked woman's love.

And I've gotta have this wicked woman's love...
