

Jim Ed Brown & The Browns

"You Keep Right on Loving Me"

Visit "You Keep Right on Loving Me" on MotoLyrics.com

(Don Devaney)

Puttin' on your makeup
I can see the lines you're tryin' hard to hide
Lines that tell the story
Of a life with me that seemed too few good times.

All I've been to you is a thorn
To me you've been a rose
And you keep right on loving me
But why you do, I don't know.

Making yourself pretty
For a man who hasn't made your life much fun
Never do you complain
And if angels walk on earth, honey you'd be one.

And if you've ever cried
You've cried inside where it don't show
And you keep right on loving me
But why you do, I don't know.

And if you've ever cried
You've cried inside where it don't show
And you keep right on loving me
But why you do, I don't know...

Visit Jim Ed Brown & The Browns page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.