I just stood there in the cold
I just stood there in the cold
I know I won't see you again
I won't see you again
And I just stood there in the cold
I just stood there in the cold
I know I won't see you again
I won't see you again
I won't see you again
And I don't really understand
What you're after
Cause I was looking for you
Only looking for you
We used to feel
Like the world was passing us by
But now it's only you that's passing me by
I just stood there in the cold
I just stood there in the cold
I know I won't see you again
I won't see you again
And I just stood there in the cold
I just stood there in the cold
I know I won't see you again
I won't see you again
I won't see you again
